Merrill Crosses Atlantic Again From England

Expect To Land At Brooklyn Airport During Mid-afternoon Hours

Fliers Bringing Pictures Of Coronation Scenes In London On Wednesday

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SQUANTUM, Mass., May 14.—Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie, round trip trans-Atlantic flyers, landed their giant monoplane at the Squantum naval air base at 2:40 p. m. (EDT) this afternoon to check their gasoline supply.

Merrill said he planned to take off as soon as the checking was completed and more gas put in the tanks, if needed to complete the flight to Floyd Bennett field, New York.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 14.—Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie, flying non-stop from England to the United States with the first pictures of the coronation of King George VI, had crossed the Atlantic at noon today and were coming down "The Home Stretch" from over Newfoundland at a 140-miles an hour pace.

They were expected to arrive around 4 p. m. at Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn where a large crowd was assembling to greet them.

Streaking across over Newfoundland they had about 400 miles more of over-water flying before reaching the mainland. Rain, which had been falling, had stopped and visibility was steadily improving. They had bucked headwinds most of the way across the ocean.

Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, Merrill's plane was roaring through the morning mists over Newfoundland, shooting straight and fast toward its destination. At 10:05 a. m. (EDT) Merrill tried to report his position over Cape Islands, N. F., but radio operators on the main land could not contact the airship—the "Daily Express."

First Round Trip Commercial Effort

When the intrepid aviators land in Brooklyn they will have completed the first round trip commercial crossing of the Atlantic ever made by heavier-than-air craft.

Merrill and Lambie took off from Southport Sands Airfield in England at 4:15 p. m. yesterday (EDT)

Indian Child Bride Slays Her Husband

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14.—Pretty sixteen-year-old Indian child bride shot and killed her husband in their home on the Cattaraugus Indian reservation near Lawtons, N. Y., in a protest against a life of drudgery, Constable William J. Murphy of Collins revealed today.

The girl is Mrs. Ivory White, a bride of eight months and soon to become a mother. She weighs 85 pounds. The husband is William White, 24, a lacrosse player and former member of a Rochester team.

The shooting climaxed a series of quarrels in which White allegedly berated his child-wife for her love of pretty things, her distaste for the drudgery of primitive reservation life and her lack of attention to their dog.

Last night, Constable Murphy said, Mrs. White told him the couple quarreled and White ordered his wife from bed to cook a meal for their dog. She demurred, she said, and White struck her. The girl said she jumped from bed, grabbed a 16-gauge shotgun and shot her husband in the abdomen. He died shortly afterwards.

Mrs. White was to be brought here for arraignment before a U. S. commissioner.

British Destroyer Is Badly Crippled Off Spanish Coast

Explosion Damages British Destroyer Hunter—At Least Eight Are Dead

Mine May Have Been Responsible—Fear Consequences Of Event

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 14.—While Whitehall circles expressed fears of possible grave international consequences, the British admiralty waited grimly today for detailed particulars regarding the explosion that damaged the British destroyer Hunter off the Spanish port of Almeria.

A statement was issued by the admiralty asserting only eight members of the crew were killed by the blast. This was at variance with unofficial advices from Almeria and Valencia, which put the dead at 14.

The destroyers Hardy and Hyperion are at Almeria, standing by the Hunter, the admiralty announced.

Engaged In Patrol Duty.

Valencia, Spain, May 14.—Unofficial reports from Almeria today stated 14 men were killed when a tremendous explosion on its starboard waetrline crippled the British destroyer Hunter while it was engaged in non-intervention patrol duty.

The ministry of air and marine issued a report from the captain of the loyalist Spanish warship Jaime Primero regarding the blast. This account said the explosion occurred

Ready To Report On Experiment In Handling Relief

New Relief Methods Have Been Tried Out In Six Counties Of State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 14.—Results of Gov. George H. Earle's experiment in placing the administration of relief completely in local county boards hands was expected to be made known today.

Six counties, Cumberland, Carbon, Butler, Centre, Chester and Clarion, were divorced from the state administration of relief several months ago in an effort to discover whether or not it was feasible to grant complete home rule in this phase of the state's activities.

Local boards of four members each, two Republicans and two Democrats, were appointed by the governor and were given complete control and jurisdiction in administering relief in their respective counties such as hiring personnel, submitting budgets and caring for the needy.

May Hold Answer

Clarion county was the only one of the group not to join in the experiment.

A sub-committee of the Goodrich committee, whose recommendations Governor Earle accepted in his relief and public assistance program, has completed its investigation of the experimental counties and the results were expected to be announced today.

The report, observers believe, may hold the answer on what will be done in the local administration of relief as proposed in the administration's measures to establish a consolidated and permanent relief and public assistance system.

Movie Stars Are Heavily Guarded

Reports Heard Stars Might Be Molested In Hollywood Strike

SAY SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE NEAR

(International News Service)

HOOLYWOOD, May 14.—Motion picture stars traveled under heavy special guard here today following reports they might be molested by strike warfare.

Police said they had received information that a band of 50 "muscle men" had been imported from the east and middlewest "to create trouble" in the strike-torn film capital.

Simultaneous with this announcement word came from both sides that the two-weeks-old strike against the studios is on the eve of settlement.

Near Settlement

Unofficially admitting " a settlement is almost 'certain' " Charles Lessing, head of the striking Federated Motion Picture Crafts, emerged from a conference with his directors early today.

It was indicated the striking crafts would start voting on a new peace proposal offered by producers through the Los Angeles Central Labor Council today.

While the stars and lesser actors and actresses continued to pass unmolested through picket lines into their studios, it was learned definitely that some of them have hired bodyguards.

Among those traveling with armed companions were Marlene Dietrich, George Raft and Mae West. Others were advised by police to do the same.

Devotion To Mrs. Simpson Is Touching Say Reports From France

(Copyright, 1937.)

MONTS, France, May 14—Any rumors or reports to the contrary notwithstanding, the Duke of Windsor is an "extremely happy man," since his brother George has been crowned king of England and his own brief chapter as ruler of the British empire closed.

He acts and appears like a man from whose shoulders a tremendous weight has been lifted. He laughs more than he did before, he appears younger and he is obviously in better health.

He is near Mrs. Wallis Simpson whom he is shortly to marry "almost constantly." His devotion to her is touching.

The Duke's face fairly beams when he talks to her. The interchanges between them are always gay and each has an intense and tremendous interest in the other's thoughts and wishes.

Gets Royal Homage

Despite the intimacy of the small chateau De Cande where the Duke and his circle are living, all the dignity due to royalty is being accorded him. But it is a natural respect and evoid of "stuffiness."

Men and women arise when he makes an entrance into a room. Women callers curtesy and men bow from the waist.

While he calls Mrs. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers and others by their fist names the Duke is addressed only as "Sir." And this

Hear Testimony In Shooting Of Youth Tuesday

Coroner's Jury Recommends That Naples Be Held For Grand Jury

WITNESSES TELL OF CIRCUMSTANCES

After hearing the evidence presented by witnesses to the shooting of Robert Harris, 12-year-old colored lad, of 15½ Levine Way, by Tony Naples, of rear 715 Mable street, at noon Tuesday, a jury empanel by Coroner Orville Potter in the court of Alderman L. C. Mantz last night ordered that Naples be held for the action of the grand jury.

The verdict of the jury was "That Robert Harris came to his death in the New Castle hospital on May 11, 1937, at 12:30 p. m., of a gunshot wound received at the hands of Tony Naples, about 12:05 p. m. on the same date, in the vicinity of the Pollock school. We recommend that Tony Naples be held for the action of the grand jury."

The Naples boy who was with his parents and attorneys, was the center of attraction at the inquest, the court room of Alderman Mantz being well crowded with spectators. He did not seem to realize the enormity of the offense with which he has been charged, that of murder, and seemed no more concerned over the proceedings than if he had been summoned before his principal at school for a reprimand.

With Slain Boy

There was only one actual eyewitness to the shooting, Junior Mitchell, aged 9, of 919 Moravia street, who was with Robert Harris when the two were summoned to the field alongside the school by Tony with the request, "come on up the hill, I want to show you something."

The boys had just been dismissed from school for the noon recess at 12 o'clock, when Naples approached them as they were walking away from the school building to go home for their lunch, Junior Mitchell said.

Nothing further was said by the trio until they reached a spot in the field about 50 yards from the school building, the Mitchell boy stated.

It was then that the Naples boy pulled a gun from his shirt front and said, "see this!" He aimed the gun at the face of Robert Harris. Harris said "don't point it at me," as the Naples boy pulled the trigger and Robert Harris fell, blood streaming from a wound under his right eye.

Were Not Mad

Junior said that he started to cry,

Steel Shares Go Higher As Strike At J. & L. Ends

Roosevelt Returns To Washington To Push His Court Proposals

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 14.—President Roosevelt rode back into Washington this morning from a 17-day Texas fishing vacation to advise senate leaders he wants a roll call vote on his proposal to increase the supreme court membership by six justices.

All pleadings for compromise—preferably one which would add only two justices to the high court have fallen on a deaf presidential ear, it was learned.

Claims Victory

Postmaster General James A. Farley, who made a special trip to Indianapolis to ride the last 600 miles with Mr. Roosevelt, reported that the administration had the votes to win.

"Why should we compromise?" asked Farley.

Presidential lieutenants conceded the vote would be close but claimed a majority of 5 or 6, and possibly more.

Dr. J. Q. Stewart Goes To Honolulu To View Eclipse

Makes Brief Stop With Relatives Here Enroute To Pacific Coast

After a brief visit in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Edwin W. Crawford, on Wallace avenue, Dr. John Q. Stewart, doctor of science, at Princeton University, left this morning for San Francisco, Cal., where on May 22, he will sail on the S. S. Malalo for Honolulu to observe the total eclipse of the sun, visible there for the longest period of time.

Dr. Stewart will be joined at San Francisco by another scientist from Philadelphia. As the total eclipse this year is distinctly unusual, occurring in this particular position only once in every so many hundred years, scientists from all over the world have made major plans to study the phenomenon.

Returning, the men will stop at the Phoenix Islands and then continue the journey back through the Panama Canal. During Dr. Stewart's absence which will probably be for two months, Mrs. Stewart and son will go to their summer home in the White Mountains, N. H., where they will be joined by Dr. Stewart.

Dinner last evening in the Crawford home on Wallace avenue, was the means of an informal reunion for local relatives, other guests including Mr. and Mrs. J. Cam Liebendorfer, of Maitland Lane, uncle and aunt of Dr. Stewart.

Pittsburgh Steel Strike Near End

Tentative Agreement Is Reported As Expected To End Strike

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MONESSEN, Pa., May 14.—A tentative agreement expected to end the strike of more than 5,000 employes of the Pittsburgh Steel company here and at Allenport was reached today at a conference arranged by Mayor James C. Gold of Monessen.

It provides for a temporary contract between Pittsburgh Steel and John L. Lewis' C.I.O. Steel Workers organizing Committee, to become permanent if the S.W.O.C. wins a Wagner law election at the plant, Gold said. This is similar to the agreement which ended the Jones and Laughlin strike today.

Settlement Of Strike Is Made This Morning

Men To Return To Work At Once—Election Is Set For May 20

PLANT TO CONTRACT WITH MEN'S CHOICE

Election To Be Supervised By National Labor Relations Board

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Thousands of cheering pickets broke rank today as the strike of more than 25,000 Jones and Laughlin Steel Company employes was ended with a provision for a Wagner Act election.

Settlement of the 36-hour strike, which spread to more than 5,000 employes of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, was achieved by Philip Murray, chairman of John L. Lewis's CIO steel workers organizing committee, at a conference with H. E. Lewis, chairman of the board of J. & L. today.

Return At Once.

The settlement provided that the men return to work at once with the 3 p. m. shift this afternoon pending an election May 20 supervised by the National Labor Relations board. If the SWOC wins the election, it will be given sole bargaining rights for all J. & L. employes, Lewis announced.

In a nutshell, the tentative settlement provided:

1. Men to return to work at once pending Wagner act election.
2. J. & L. promises not to interfere or coerce workers in rights of self organization as guaranteed by Wagner act.
3. J. & L. will facilitate election at its plants.
4. Pending final determination, conditions now in effect in contract between SWOC and Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation will be observed by J. & L.
5. "The corporation agrees to negotiate and sign an exclusive bargaining contract with the SWOC in event a majority of those participating in the election select the SWOC as a collective bargaining agency."
6. All employes as of May 12, 1937, will be returned to their former positions without discrimination.

SWOC Confident.

SWOC officials privately asserted the election will result in a tremendous majority for the CIO group.

Lewis expressed his appreciation of the efforts of James Francis Dewey, federal conciliator, in bringing about the settlement of the first major walkout staged by the SWOC and the first steel strike in Pittsburgh in many years.

Lewis said it was the first agreement negotiated by the Jones & Laughlin corporation, one of the ranking independents, in 30 years.

As news of the settlement spread, the picket lines dissolved on the south side of Pittsburgh and in nearby Aliquippa down the Ohio as the men made ready for work again. With a huge backlog of orders and operations placed by Lewis at 90 per cent of capacity, continued employment for many months was assured.

Meeting Saturday.

Murray was smiling but grim-lipped as he emerged from Lewis' office. A few blocks away, in their

DODD MAY BE RECALLED

Ambassador Now Target

Senate Demands Dodd Give Name Of Billionaire Backing Dictator

LIKELY TO LOSE HIS OFFICIAL POST

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 14—Secretary of State Hull today faced the problem of deciding whether Ambassador William E. Dodd, now in Germany, shall reveal to the senate the name of the billionaire he said is ready to "finance a dictatorship in America."

The senate resolution, calling on Hull to ask Dodd to name the man, will be sent the secretary for a report by Senator Pittman (D) of Nevada, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. Hull can decide to call on Dodd to furnish the name or report such a move would be incompatible with the public interest.

Both friends and foes of President Roosevelt's supreme court plan predicted Dodd's recall from his ambassadorial post. Both sides resented his intrusion, from a foreign diplomatic post, into an internal legislative controversy.

He wrote two senators urging support of the presidential plan. It was in his letter that he told of an American billionaire being ready to finance and control a dictatorship in this country.

Both sides contended Dodd had embarrassed the administration and its relations with Germany by reflecting on "dictatorships" when Der Feuhrer Hitler is a dictator.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

prevail that his court battle was killing off social reform legislation, President Roosevelt pledged himself anew to carry the torch of the "more abundant life."

While his special train still was rolling across the plains of Illinois, the president reviewed the "we have just begun to fight" slogan he used so effectively at Madison Square Garden in the final speech of his re-election campaign. In this speech, the chief executive promised better living conditions for the under privileged, better standards of hours and wages for the working man and adequate prices to the farmer.

Continue Spirit Of A.A.A.

Amplifying one phase of his program, the president told newspaper reporters traveling with him that he hoped to put agricultural prices at a point where producers would enjoy a reasonable profit through continued application of the spirit of the outlawed A.A.A. Not the letter, but the spirit, he added.

Once there, it will be his aim to tabilize those prices within reasonable limits—he defeinitely denied any intent of price-fixing—and keep them from going either through the roof or down to the bottom. Not all of the New Deal objectives promised in either '32 or '36 have been attained, the president said, but the administration still is doing business at the same old stand.

Congressional leaders who will meet with the president during the day at the White House will find him in fighting trim. The eleven days he spent on the Gulf of Mexico trolling for tarpon, king fish and amberjack are sending him back to the White House heavily tanned, in buoyant spirits and boasting that he took two inches off his waistline.

This morning, the president planned to assemble his regular Friday cabinet meeting and receive up-to-the-minute reports on any major developments in the executive branch of the government.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IS MADE THIS MORNING

skyscraper headquarters, his executive committee was mobilizing for a meeting tomorrow to adopt strategy for a mass attack on the four other major independent companies who have spurned SWOC contracts.

The settlement ended a tense situation in Pittsburgh and in Aliquippa.

Presnt at the conference in addition to Murray, Lewis and Dewey were Clarence Moser, a state mediator, and Ernest C. Dunbar of the National Labor Relations board.

The SWOC will probably be opposed by two other unions—the Pittsburgh Works Employes association, in the Pittsburgh plant, and the United Iron and Steel Workers group at Aliquippa. Both of these were organized from the remnants of the employe representation plans which the Wagner act outlawed.

The strike was one of the shortest in the history of the steel industry.

Previously, J. & L. had offered the SWOC a contract if permitted to grant similar agreements to non-SWOC groups. This Murray declined, charging it would lead to dual unionism, factional disputes and plant strife.

less than four miles from the port of Almeria.

Several Spanish warships were ordered to the Hunter's assistance, the report stated, including the Jaime Primero, the destroyer Lazaga and a number of armed fishing trawlers.

The report said the forward part of the Hunter sank rapidly immediately after the explosion and that 14 members of the British crew were picked up by a Spanish launch. The Hunter was assisted to port by units of the Spanish fleet.

To Inspect Hull.

Ambulances with doctors and nurses were waiting at the dock when the injured arrived.

An inspection of the Hunter's hull was scheduled today by Spanish and British officials to determine the cause of the blast.

Five of the Hunter's dead were trapped in the destroyer's engine room. Their bodies had not been recovered when the official report was made.

Reports received by the British embassy here indicated fewer may have been killed than the unofficial Almeria reports indicated. The embassy advices placed the death list at eight and the number of injured at 24.

Struck Mine.

Gibraltar, May 14.—It has been established that the British destroyer Hunter struck a mine, officials here reported today.

As soon as reports were received of the blast that damaged the Hunter, the British warship Hardy left here at full speed for Almeria.

It was understood the Hardy plans to bring members of the Hunter's crew who were injured to Gibraltar today or tomorrow.

and then ran to the home of Robert's mother and told her of the occurrence. When they got back to the school building Robert had been taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was dead when the Mitchell boy and Robert's mother got there.

Junior said that he had never known of any trouble between the two boys and that they were not mad at each other just before the shooting occurred.

Philip Bordonaro, aged 11, of 907 South Mill street, who was in Tony's room at the Pollock school, said that he had seen the barrel of the gun protruding from Tony's shirt as they were getting into line to be dismissed at the noon hour.

He said that Tony was larger than the Harris boy. On Monday he had heard the two boys say "don't forget, we are going up on the hill this afternoon."

He said that the two boys argued but that he had never known of them fighting. He said that Robert Harris would hold his nose and make funny noises in school, causing Tony to laugh, and that they would be punished for this by the teacher. He said he had heard Tony say, "don't forget, make me laugh."

At Shooting Scene

Four Junior high school pupils, Florindo De Lillo, aged 14, of 15 Maitland street; Vincent Sands, aged 14, of 814 S. Mercer street; Tony Pezullo, aged 14, of 18 East Home street; and Sam Esposito aged 13, of 11½ East Home street, were within 75 feet of the spot where the shooting occurred. They did not see the shot fired, being off to the right and a little ahead of where Tony Naples and Robert Harris were standing, but they whirled around when the shot was fired and saw Harris fall to the ground and Tony Naples run away from the scene, they stated.

The quartet was enroute back to Ben Franklin Junior high school after being home for lunch and were walking through the field when they saw the three boys together. They had not paid particular attention to them until they heard the shot fired.

De Lillo and Vincent Sands ran to the school building and notified one of the teachers, who went out to the field and looked at the Harris boy, and then came in and called police. Pezullo and Esposito ran after Tony Naples and tried to catch him, they said, but had a head start and got away, so they returned to where the Harris boy was lying. He was carried to the school house by Ted English, and later put in the police car and taken to the hospital.

Sands said that he saw the gun in Naples' right hand and that he tried to shove it into the front of his shirt as he ran away from the scene of the shooting.

Police Officer John Haven, told of being summoned to the scene of the shooting, along with Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter, and officers Robert Hanna and Jack Young. He and Hanna picked up the injured boy and took him to the New Castle hospital. He was breathing when they got there, but stopped breathing, apparently before he was gotten into the operating room. Hanna's story was similar.

Tells Shooting Story

Detective Showalter told of going to the Naples home with Officer Young, after the Harris boy had been taken to the hospital. No one answered the door and they broke into the house. They called several times, and finally Tony answered them. He was hiding in a bed room, behind a door.

When first asked about what he had done with the gun, he denied knowing anything about a gun, but later took them into a bod room and got the gun out of a dresser drawer. He said he had gotten the cartridge out of his father's shaving box. He said he did not know where the shaving box was however, and afterwards, the father arrived at the scene and they went back into the house and got the shaving box. Tony had broken the top in trying to close it, after removing the cartridge, which had been wrapped in a piece of cloth, the father told Showalter.

Detective Showalter said they took the Naples boy to the police station and he first told them a story of playing Indians and cowboy, and it was during this performance that Harris was shot. Later he confessed that he had gotten the gun and taken it to school purposely to get even with Harris because he had given him a licking the day before.

Doctor Testifies

He said that Naples told him he belonged to an organization known as the Junior G-Men of the South Side, and that they had whistle signals by which they would come to the assistance of each other, or by which they could summon each other from their homes when they wanted anything.

Showalter's story was corroborated by Officer Young.

William Harris, father of the dead boy, stated that Robert Harris was his natural son, but that he went by the name of McDowell sometimes, because his mother's name had been McDowell before they were married. He said Robert was born in New Castle, May 4, 1925.

Dr. E. U. Snyder stated that he had examined the Harris boy at the New Castle hospital at 12:30 p. m. May 11, and that he was dead. He conducted an autopsy, which showed that a bullet, apparently of .32 calibre, had entered the right cheek of the Harris boy, and had coursed to the left and upwards. There were also powder burns on the right hand of the Harris boy.

The coroner's jury, which heard the testimony, was composed of: Carl Staeber, James A. George, J. N. McCandless, C. E. Allen, James B. Cooper and Elmer Tinstman.

Former King Calmer

Former King Edward today is a calmer and less nervous person than formerly. He is reading more, and has told his friends one thing he intends to do is to "catch up with the reading I hadn't time to do before."

The date of his wedding to Mrs. Simpson has not yet been definitely set, although it will take place in the month of June. The Duke, incidentally, is paying the salaries of all servants at the chateau.

Announcement of the Duke's wedding plans is expected Monday with the list of guests attending the ceremony probably being made public the following day.

The Duke and Duchess of Kent are expected to attend the wedding ceremony and the former British monarch's youngest brother may act as his best man.

ENDING U. S. DIVORCE EVIL

THE papers printed a nice big picture the other day, of a mildly good-looking American heiress who had posed grinning broadly, with a newly acquired husband—her third.

Two previous marriages had gone to pot, but the lady was undiscouraged. "This time it's for keeps," she remarked as the cameras clicked. Hope springs eternal in the human breast, and two failures do not necessarily prove that a third venture cannot succeed.

A good deal has been written lately about the "divorce evil" and people who change husbands (or wives) the way ordinary folk change their autos have come in for stern condemnation by press and pulpit. Yet when you reflect on the lighthearted confidence of this girlish sprig of America's nobility you can see that what is wrong with these divorce-addicts is not original sin so much as plain, old-fashioned flightiness.

Maybe we see too many movies and read too many romances. At any rate, we seem to have nourished a legend that if you once get in front of the marriage altar and have the knot duly tied, a life of serene, unbroken happiness follows automatically. If it doesn't—if you find that you and the idol of your youthful dreams have divergent tastes, if you quarrel now and then, if you occasionally wish one another in Timbuctoo—then something is wrong. Not with you—heavens, no!—but with the other person.

Now the one thing that ought to be perfectly obvious is that everyone who approaches marriage in that frame of mind is due to get bumped—hard. The wedding doesn't inaugurate an effortless, lived-happily-ever-after idyll; it begins a venture which calls for all the unselfishness, tact, forebearance and plain, old-fashioned courage that the two parties can muster. The thing the romantics never quite grasp is that you have to work at marriage to make it succeed.

So, when the storm clouds gather, these romantics fly to the divorce court. Being romantic, they learn nothing by their experience; and in the course of time we find them coming back for more a second and a third time—blithely confident, each time, that this one is going to be different.

Is it? The chances are all against it. It isn't marriage that has failed, but the individual. This eternal effort to find the dreamed-of happiness by a change of partners faces highly unfavorable odds. You get out of marriage in the long run, just what you are willing to put into it. If you have tried it twice and failed each time, what earthly reason have you to hope that the third venture will be any different?

The first step toward ending this "divorce evil" is to grow up. As long as people approach marriage with starry-eyed faith in the automatic magic of the wedding rite, the divorce courts will continue to be jammed.

PARENTS TAXED UNJUSTLY

A major defect in both state and national income tax laws is that exemptions for dependents end at the age of eighteen years. It is opposed to the educational aims of the country and an unjust hardship upon parents.

There is plenty to talk these days about adding to income taxes by lowering exemptions or raising the rate. It is a sound tax based on ability to pay and is direct, but if changes are to be made in it, one of them certainly should be an exemption for dependents whose parents are still paying for their education.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

WORLD'S THRIFT RECORD

Probably the world's most powerful object lesson in thrift is the extraordinary ranking of America as the leading nation of life insurance owners. This country contains only seven per cent of the world's population. But Americans own 70 per cent of all the world's life insurance.

Equally astonishing is the growth in popularity of life insurance in this country in only a few years. For instance, in 1900, only one American in every eight had made provision for his dependents and himself through life insurance. Today, every other American is numbered in the ranks of life insurance owners—sixty-four million of them. And this army of provident people have pooled their resources to the extent of creating $104,500,000,000 of life insurance in force.

These millions of Americans are expressing their American love for freedom—by banding together to achieve individual security—security against leaving dependent families (if they die too soon) and against their own dependence upon others (if they live too long).

These figures give added emphasis to Life Insurance Week, to be observed throughout the United States May 17 to 22.

DR. FINLEY'S GOOD EARTH

It must seem a bit bewildering for motor-mad zealots to hear a man of means, and a notability at that, declare that "walking's the thing."

Dr. John H. Finley, 73-year-old newly created editor-in-chief of the New York Times, shares a simple health secret. He says walking has kept him fit physically and stimulated mentally over many happy, successful years.

During one seven-year period, Dr. Finley estimates, he walked a distance equal to the earth's circumference. Carrying a pedometer enables the stalwart editor to determine the exact mileage covered each day. And he averages 10 miles every 24 hours.

Dr. Finley, however, as one would expect a noted writer, adds something to the enjoyment of walking as such. He is inspired by the guide books and journals of such noble walking philosophers as Robert Louis Stevenson and Hilaire Belloc, and takes imaginary trips with them. Thus the daily laps are made doubly interesting by reliving the peripatetic joys of famous men.

Through making a travelogue game of his trudging hours, Dr. Finley lessens his fatigue, lifts his imagination and presents such a strong case for a revival of walking that many will want to take up a neglected art if only for the sheer fun of the thing.

It seems to be a rule. The louder he talks, the less he is saying.

The Parent Problem

CLOTHES FOR NEW BABY

Ready for each newborn infant should be, approximately, the following clothes: One soft receiving blanket, four dozen diapers, six flannel wraps a yard square, four knitted bands with shoulder straps, four flannel binders, four knitted shirts, six dresses, four nightgowns and four pairs of stockings.

For the protection of the child's skin, the diapers should be washed each time they become wet, even if not soiled, and should be boiled daily. Bird's-eye cotton is good material for diapers. Fine cheesecloth diapers are growing popular. Standard first size—18x36 inches, second size—20x40 inches, or square ones—27x27. A small, soft inside square cloth next the baby is an obvious convenience for the mother. On sale at any drug store are also very soft crepe paper diapers, especially practical for use in traveling. Rubber diapers which are convenient to the mothers on a short journey with the baby are, if on the child long at a time, very bad for his skin. You didn't suppose I knew anything about diapers. Well, I do. While the diaper styles have changed a little since I put them on our youngest child, diapers still are diapers for a' that.

Cotton is considered the best material for bands, though they may be of silk and wool. Very desirable that they be so knitted as to avoid rough joinings. Also thin cotton knitted shirts are preferred by baby doctors, and not too thick even for winter.

Materials For Nightgowns

Stockinet nightgowns are comfortable and wash well. Pure flannel ones are hard to wash and soon turn yellow. Cotton flannel soon loses its nap and grows brittle. Flannelette is inflammable. To prevent thumb sucking the sleeves of the nightgown may be long and have a drawstring to enclose the hands roomily.

Of course the baby should be kept warm enough. With more skin surface for unit of weight than grownups, it can easily be chilled. Except for the first few weeks, the tendency, however, is to keep the baby too warm. He certainly should not perspire.

The infant's dresses should be of thin cotton or fine silk, and just long enough to cover the feet well. The plainer they are the more comfortable to the baby and the easier to launder. They should have no waistline and no hard lace or embroidery at the neck or sleeves, and should be loose about the armpit.

All Of Us

IF YOU'RE THE WORRYING KIND—

If you've got the worry-habit you can always find plenty of excuses for worry in this world.

You can worry about the future and worry about the past and worry about the present.

Worry about health and worry about sickness and worry about people.

Worry about government, about anarchy, about taxes and bills, about flood and drouth, about p's and q's.

Worry about children and about the old folk, about your teeth and your complexion, about losing your job or fearing you'll have to go to work.

Worry because you're too thin, worry because you're too fat; worry about baldness, worry about deafness, worry about your wife, worry about your husband.

Worry because the other fellow travels too fast, worry because he pokes along.

Worry about the flowers in the garden, the birds in the sky, the worms in the ground.

Worry about religion and worry about science, worry about what you see and worry about the invisible.

Worry about a sliver in your thumb or an ache in your heart, about what people say about you and what they don't, about crowds and about loneliness.

If you're the worrying kind, there's fuel for worry everywhere in life. It burns slowly, makes a great smudge, and nothing anyone can say or do will put it out—if you'd rather worry than live easily and naturally and pleasantly.

The one cure for worry is the sudden thought: Life is essentially good and whatever happens to me isn't as important as I've been thinking it is. . . . That puts an end to worry.

I know it does, because I've done it.

The bottom of the ocean is not what folks generally suppose. Near the land, where the deposits of shore and rivers ae carried into the ocean, there are great dark, gray flat plains; featureless except for sea growths, scattered rocks dropped by passing icebergs, pieces of pumice thrown out by volcanoes and sinking after becoming water-logged, occasional wrecks of ships, bones and skeletons of whales, fishes, sea birds and humans. But farther out, then the ocean's bottom is like our own land; a series of hills and valleys, plains and mountain ranges.

Stopping in a small town a traveling man said to a prospective customer:

"No."

"Planning any improvements?"

"No."

"Well," said the traveling man, "I've been all over this country, and this is the first town I have seen that is what you might call actually finished."

CHEESE IS COUNTY'S FORTUNE

Most moderns know full well the moon is not made of "green cheese" as the ancients once believed but the cheese we find in our sandwiches may be of the "Green" variety, that is, manufactured in Green county, Wisconsin. This county, one of the smallest in the state, produces practically a tenth of all the cheese manufactured in the United States. Its inhabitants are mostly of Swiss descent, having come there in 1844 from the canton Glarus, Switzerland, and founded the town of New Glarus. General farimng was engaged in at first but failure of the wheat crops during the '60's led the thrifty settlers to turn to dairying. The first cheese factory was established in 1868 and in less than a decade the county took the lead in cheese manufacture. Green county with an area less than 600 square miles and a population of 22,000 is one of the most prosperous in the country.

Good Taste

BY YOUR laugh, they shall know you! How is yours? Are your mirthful moments a source of great annoyance to those within earshot?

If so, begin today to tone it down or be prepared to be dropped by some of your favorite friends, also to suffer a severe handicap while striving to acquire new ones. Nothing is more of an index to refinement or the lack of it than one's manner of laughing.

Loud, raucous guffaws, especially those emitted by women, are universally frowned upon as vulgar.

Cultivate low, pleasing laughter and spare the ear-drums of your more sensitive acquaintances—especially in cafes, theaters, street cars and other public places.

The vulgarian can be depended upon to trumpet her laughter especially during and immediately after the cocktail hour.

Dear Miss Markel—In sending my high school graduation invitations, I am undecided as to (1) How to address one to a family; for example, is it correct to address it "Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Jones" on the outside envelope and "and family" on the inside envelope? (2) How may I indicate that I do not wish gifts? May I write "No gifts" on the invitation? READER.

Answer—"And family" is not technically correct on any invitation. Each member invited should receive a separate invitation. However, if you have a shortage of invitations, you may send one to a family that you know very well. Do not insert "no gifts" on your invitations.

Liberal Hits Administration.
Says Roosevelt Hurts New Deal.
Oswald Garrison Villard Airs Views.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

NEW DEALERS may have cause to worry over the extent of the defection by liberals.

The situation is summed up in an article that certainly hurts the Roosevelt administration — an article by Oswald Garrison Villard, veteral liberal leader. The article, appearing in The Nation, of which Villard is editor emeritus, is all the more damaging because it comes from a group which has been battling for New Deal causes.

From its first words to its last, the article offers no consolation to the president. Villard, of course, speaks for himself, no longer being an editor, but he has had a following for half a century.

"Whatever else may be said about the president's supreme court proposal, it has become a red herring drawn across the trail which leads toward efficient legislation and administration," the article begins.

And it ends with:

"Meanwhile it seems true that, thanks in part to the court bill, the grip of the president on congress is weaker than at any previous time during his presidency. He is steadily losing support. Under the surface things are simmering. The Harrisons and Robinsons are giving him outward support, but at heart they feel hardly less outraged than Glass, while the progressive group steadily loses hope, for which again the president is to blame."

POSITION

It must be understood that Mr. Villard and his liberal cohorts are for curbing the supreme court. They simply believe the president has gone the wrong way about it, as does Senator Burton K. Wheeler. But, worse, they believe further that he has caused a deadlock which has tied up important legislation.

The liberals say more important legislation is being destroyed at the moment through this deadlock than through court nullification. And they believe a far-reaching federal relief organization is essential—immediately.

VILLARD'S VIEW

Mr. Villard is unsparing in his article.

Read some of the phrases:

"One cannot go to Washington without feeling loose ends in every department. . . . Three years ago I wrote . . . pointing out that the president's whole program needed co-ordination and efficiency. It seems to me that the need is far greater today than three years ago. Since that time many of the president's ablest administrators, many of the exceptionally fine group of young men and women who flocked to Washington to be of service to the New Deal, largely because of their enthusiasm for it, have left the government service for one reason or another. . . ."

"One of the president's most intimate friends said the other day that his great weakness was his inability to remove inefficient people whom he had appointed to office. . . . But it seems to me that is only one phase of his administrative failure. He cannot sit down and wreak himself upon an administrative situation. . . . We have the continual Rooseveltian compromises, the delayed decisions, the failure to think things through and to grapple with the problems of the hour. . . ."

OTHER VILLARD VIEWS

Mr. Villard continues—writing, it must be remembered, from the liberal point of view:

"The president says we cannot cut the army and navy budget, which will again run to a billion dollars—with a warning from the house military affairs committee that it will be much larger next year. Yet army and navy officers are pointing out that the budget is unduly swollen, that it is not producing an efficient army and navy, that we have no co-ordinated defense plan. The president is not even moved by the fact that Maj-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW ABOUT IT?

They say that modern educators have discarded Mental Arithmetic in the public schools. They also say that the modern idea of education does not stress the memory system: that children today are not even taught in the schools to memorize the multiplication tables.

In speaking of arithmetic it has been said over and over again "Figures can't lie." It has also been said "Nothing can lie like figures, except facts."

One teacher, in the days of Mental Arithmetic declared to his pupils that "figures can't lie" and made the following statement:

"For instance, if one man can build a house in twelve days, twelve men can build it in one."

"Yes," interrupted a student. "Then 288 will build it in one hour, 17,280 in one minute and 1,036,800 in one second. And I don't believe they could lay one brick in that time."

While the teacher was still gasping, the smart "Ready reckoner" went on:

"Again, if one ship can cross the Atlantic in six days, six ships can cross it in one day. I don't believe that either, so where's the truth in arithmetic?"

Then he sat down.

He never empty-handed came,
His pockets was a mine of sweet
Through which a child with eyes aflame
Could delve for dainty things to eat.
And was there some one sick-a-bed
He always brought a bright bouquet
Of lovely blossoms pink and red
To light the room and cheer the day.

He never seemed in search of fame
He stayed content with lesser deeds.
And gloried in the glad acclaim
That follows serving little needs.
He left to princes and to kings
The goals that men of might pursue
And did those gracious kindly things
That most of us forget to do.

A child's gay laughter moved him more
Than symphonies by masters played.
He liked the simple garb he wore
Better than broadcloth tailor-made.
And he would rather see a smile
Upon the face of one he knew
Than travel in a costly style
The wonders of the world to view.

Today's Yesterdays—May 14, 1650.—British parliament ordained that adultery be punished by death, with hanging the means of execution. No one suffered this penalty for the offense in England, but several did in Puritannical New England!

The law was simply a modified revival of a custom of early Saxons. They burnt the adulteress, and erected a gibbet over her ashes, whereon they hanged the adulterer.

May 14, 1669.—Timothy Edwards was born in Hartford, Conn., an intellectual prodigy who became a preacher, and did not leave East Windsor, Conn., except once, in 64 years.

He had 10 daughters and one son. The son was Jonathan Edwards, preacher and educator, from whom have descended more governors, diplomats, senators, educators and other distinguished professional men than any other American.

May 14, 1636.—Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, who was born this date, made the first quicksilver thermometers, as is well known. Little known, however, is the fact that the zero mark he worked out for the thermometer he regarded as the most extreme cold that could be produced. He erred by 459.4 degrees! Scientists subsequently established absolute zero that far below Fahrenheit's original guess.

Mrs. Minnigh led the invocation followed by the delicious dinner which was served to 61 persons. The table was decorated with attractive miniature Maypoles in pink and green.

MRS. WOODS HEADS MEDICAL AUXILIARY

Succeeding Mrs. H. C. Harper as president of Lawrence County Medical auxiliary, Mrs. John O. Woods was elected at Thursday afternoon's meeting in the home of Mrs. John Prioletti, on Leasure avenue.

Other officers are: Mrs. E. F. Henderson, president-elect; Mrs. William Hinkson, vice president; Mrs. H. C. Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. Morris Davis, secretary. Other important business was the decision that the auxiliary would send two girls to Camp East Brook the coming summer.

More Rumors Of Retirements In Supreme Court

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON May 14—Rumors abound in Washington of retirements from the United States supreme court as soon as the die is cast one way or another in President Roosevelt's fight to enlarge the court's membership.

Heretofore these rumors have concerned principally three of the ageing justices—Louis D. Brandeis, who is in his 81st year; Willis VanDevanter 78, and George Sutherland who has just passed 75.

But today a brand new rumor gained currency in the capital that Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes is contemplating stepping down from the bench some time after the high court recesses in June.

Like the others, the rumor concerning Chief Justice Hughes' self-effacement was impossible of confirmation—or, for that matter, of positive denial. The chief justice, like his associates, keeps his own counsel But it is significant that several highly placed persons who know, or used to know, Mr. Hughes rather well are inclined to credit it.

The chief justice has been sorely tried and not a little chagrined by the storm which he now finds beating around "his" court in his 76th year, after six years of diligent effort to reform court procedure and to keep it abreast of its docket.

BIBLE CLASS

The Young Ladies Bible class of the Methodist church will hold its regular monthly business meeting and social hour in the church annex Friday evening, May 14. The entertaining committee is Mrs. Haney Stinedurf and Mrs. Harry Hayes.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES

Mrs. Fred Williamson, Mrs. W. V. Mitchell and Mrs. Milo Mook attended the annual Grove City district Home Missionary society convention last Tuesday. The local society has met in full its benevolent budget for the year just closing.

Rev. Milo M. Mook preached last Thursday at the New Bedford Methodist church during a week of special services which celebrated the re-opening of the church after extensive repairs had been made.

The local Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church was host to a regional foreign missionary conference Thursday, May 13, beginning at 3 p. m. Miss Mary Johnson of China was the director. Representatives were present from the Methodist churches of Sharon, Mahoning, Farrell, New Castle, Clintonville, Mercer and Pulaski.

Elliott Ramsey, who has been a local preacher in the Methodist church for nearly a half century and who is the oldest living member of the New Wilmington Methodist church, will preach Sunday, May 16, in the evening service. It is expected that his many friends will fill the church for this particular service.

Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Mountford and Rev. and Mrs. J. Charles Paul of Mercer were recent callers here.

vention out of which was to come the United States Constitution, met in Independence hall, Philadelphia. It wasn't intended to draw up a Constitution; the call for the meeting stated it was "for the sole purpose of revising the Articles of Confederation"!

A national government was not suggested until after the convention opened, and the idea of a federal union instead of the existing association of sovereign and independent states was bitterly fought by some of the most distinguished members! Even a previous attempt to get delegates together to revise the Articles of Conferation had been a failure; only five colonies sent representatives.

May 14, 1799.—A telegraph line was operated between Boston and Martha's Vineyard, 90 miles away! This was 45 years before Morse began operating his telegraph system.

The Boston-Martha's Vineyard line was constructed by Jonathan Grant of Belchertown, Mass. Witnesses of the demonstration received answers to question put to persons at the other end of the line in less than 10 minutes, and were convinced of the astounding device's workability. But Grant couldn't convince anybody of its value, like Nathan B. Stubblefield, Kentuckian, who demonstrated radio broadcasting in Philadelphia in 1902, and patented the discovery in 1908.—a decade before the world was ready to see any use for it.

PLAINGROVE

GRANGE MEETS

The Plaingrove grange met at the hall on Tuesday evening. After the opening exercises the program was in the hands of the lecturer, Mrs. Edith Gardner, and was as follows:

Reading—Miss Gertrude McKissick.

"Flowers are easy to grow"—Mrs. Florence Shaw.

Music: "The Children"; Talk: "Commercial Fertilizer" — Walter Rodgers.

Recitation—Madge Neeley.

SURPRISE PARTY

Friends and relatives pleasantly surprised Mrs. Pearl Stevenson on Saturday evening, the event being her birthday. Mrs. Stevenson accompanied by her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Chas Eppinger had motored to Grove City earlier in the evening and when they came back the house was filled with her friends. The children enjoyed themselves playing games in the yard and the older group indulged in social chat. Music was furnished by C. X. Pollock and Harold Pollock. Later in the evening, a delicious lunch was served by the young group. There were about one hundred there. Many beautiful presents were given the honored guest. At a late hour the party broke up wishing Mrs. Stevenson many happy returns of the day. Those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grubbs, and family; Mrs. Grubbs and daughters, Olive and Blanche, of Youngstown; Mrs. Chas. Stevenson, of Sharpsville; and Mrs. Floyd Geiger, of New Castle.

PLAINGROVE NOTES

Mrs. H. G. Darsie, of Scottdale, has moved into her summer cottage here for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stevenson, of New Wilmington, was in attendance at the Presbyterian church on Mother's Day.

Members of the Nameless Club were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNulty on Saturday evening. At a seven o'clock dinner. Social chat was the diversion of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wallace and Mrs. Irene Goodman motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper, and family, of Portersville, on Sunday.

On Mother's Day the Mr. and Mrs. Meade Shoaff were surprised when some of her children and friends walked in on them with well-filled baskets for their evening lunch. Those participating in the dinner were Mrs. Hazel Dean, and daughters Alice, Betty and Elizabeth, of Harlansburg; Mrs. Alice Palmer and daughter Larry, of Portersville; Don Fleming, of near Harlansville; and Mr. and Mrs. Meade Shoaff.

On Monday evening at the Presbyterian church, a group of students of the Binghamton Bible Institute of New York held an Evangelistic service at the Presbyterian church. These students represented different countries, and wore costumes of the countries they represented. They were entertained at the church parlors for dinner and were entertained at different homes for the night. They went from here to Ellwood City.

The Plaingrove Reading Circle will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hetrick on May 28 instead of May 21. The Plaingrove commencement will be held on May 21, necessitating the change.

The World At A Glance

Gen. Johnson Hagood has put his military reputation behind the statement that our coast defenses are 'a pile of junk'. . . .

"The Puerto Rican situation is extremely dangerous, and it has not been improved, but made worse by the president's letter to the new Puerto Rican commissioner of education ordering increased instruction in English in the public schools there. . . . The president refuses his consent to the taking of a real census of the unemployed and says that we know well enough how many there are. We know nothing of the kind. We do know that there are far more unemployed than can possibly be cared for by the $1,500,000,000 appropriation for which the president has asked. But there is no relation between this appeal for funds from congress and the actual need; the warning of governors and mayors that they cannot take over the burden without bankruptcy is unheeded."

Fire from the left is more damaging to the administration than fire from the right. Thus the Villard article is attracting a great deal of attention.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Battle On Over Power Control

United States Bureaus Battle Among Themselves Over Hydro-electric Industry

OTHER BUREAUS ALSO AT ODDS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Jealousy among governmental bureaus is causing the administration and congress plenty of headaches.

Each bureau wants to be more important than any of the others. On Capitol Hill they lobby industriously against one another. They also persecute President Roosevelt, each in its own behalf and in opposition to all rivals.

Their quarrels are increasing in bitterness, too, doubtless because of the multipication in the number of bureaus.

ONE INSTANCE

The fight for predominance in the field of hydro-electric power development and distribution is especially venomous just now. It by no means is the only fight, but it is particularly gingery.

Secretary Harold L. Ickes wants hydro-electricity as the monopoly of his department of the interior.

The federal power commission considers itself the proper agency to boss the job.

TVA (Tennessee Valley Authority) believes that its mandate should be extended to cover the whole situation.

ICKES' PROPOSAL

Secretary Ickes favors creation of the office of a power commissioner, answearable only to the head of the interior department. He argues that this commissioner's appointment should be subject not even to senatorial confirmation; that the commissioner should not be removable even by the president—life tenure, in short.

He does suggest that rates fixed by the commissioner be subject to approval by the power commission (an independent body).

The power commission is dead against this plan. It reasons that the interior department's functionary would have to have an organization to fix rates, and that the commission would have to have a corresponding organization to check them. Wasteful! says the commission. It objects to a separate commission, anyway. It wants to do all of its own fixing.

TVA prefers to have the entire proposition in ITS hands—no interference by the interior department, no interference by the power commission, no interference by anybody.

STILL ANOTHER

Then there is the 'Bonneville project" on the Columbia river—Washingtonian and Oregonian.

This was supposed to be for navigational and flood control purposes. Therefore, the army engineers attended to it. But it involved power as a side issue. This much of a side issue!—navigationally and for flood control purposes it would have cost about $25,000,000. It is, however, costing $75,000,000, because power figures in it also.

So Chief of Army Engineers Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham, gently hints that the war department ought to have a voice in the matter of power distribution.

He is not as noisy about it as are Secretary Ickes, Chairman Frank R. McNinch of the federal power commission and the TVA outfit, but obviously he does choose to be heard in the controversy.

AS STEWART SEES IT

Precisely what the government's hydro-electric power developments are worth is problematic.

When Uncle Sam went into the business of developing that kind of power he found that all the best places already had been pre-empted by private interests. Hence he was driven to out-of-the-way places, where there was a tremendous waterfall, but in general no market for power. And to transmit it to desirable places involved so much loss in transit—for the stuff leaks off the wires as it travels—as to make it unprofitable to deliver.

If the government's available hydro-electric power were marketable, it would amount to from 25 to 30 per cent of the country's total —or to approximately 50 per cent, including the St. Lawrence project."

But only a fraction of it is marketable.

A NEW TROUBLE

In the far northwest, even if water is not useful for power purposes, it has its utility for irrigation.

However, in that area the soil is alkaline, and water brings the alkali to the surface. It is queer. In the dust bowl, water is needed. In the alkali region too much water kills production. After every other crop has been killed by too much alkali, hops still will survive for awhile. Yet even hops will succumb eventually.

Some scheme may finally be hit on for scraping the alkali off from on top, and making the land more productive than ever.

To date, irrigation progressively ruins it.

But Communist and Fascist nations won't compete for the leading role in Spain when the time comes to save the survivors.

NEW GALILEE

The Adult Bible classes of the Presbyterian church, meet Friday at the home of Mrs. Daisy McElvaney for their May meeting.

New Galilee school closed Monday. Several of the rural schools closed during the week, and some closed with basket picnic dinners.

The 4-H club had an organization meeting and elected officers: president, Betty Marks; vice president, Virginia Fry; secretary, Caroline Rohrman; treasurer, Louise Montani; song leader, Faye Allibach; game leader, Doris Rohrman; social committee, Mary Montani, Viola Cerati, and Alice DeCianni; program committee, Elsie Pagani, Dorothy Inman, and Josephine Guzzetta; cleaning committee, Faye Allebach, Gertrude Boggs and Pauline Biscella. Scrap books will be made ready for the next meeting.

No political or economic system can please everybody. All we can hope for is enough soft snaps for our side.

McIntyre Walks Among Thoughts

Finds Mah Jong Still Played But By Chinese Clubs Of Chinatown

MOST WIVES ARE AMERICAN BORN

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 14—Thoughts while strolling: Leon Gordon with side-burns would make a grand stage butler. Cocker spaniel dogs everywhere—the Barretts of Wimpole street influence. Add galloping walkers: Aubrey Eads. The boulevards crack rhumbaist: Harry Evans Rhyme: Baseball's best seller is young Bob Feller. America's youngest multi-millionaire: Joseph P. Kennedy. Worth 25 millions. Cole Porter's worst tune: "I've Got You Under My Skin." Martha Deane so gabby at the microphone is as quiet as a mouse away from it.

O. O. McIntyre

Look alike: Basil Rathbone and Fray, the pianist. No actress' age seems to remain so stationary as Ina Claire's. Looks no older than in the Belasco days. If Mary Boland talked that way off stage, she'd drive me nuts. Few have the cucumber calm voice of Cecil DeMille.

They say the town's best non-professional ballroom dancer is Helen Hayes. Morris Gest ought to walk across town in a derby some day—just to fool his friends. The self-conscious groups who lunch at "No. 21" striving to look so nonchalant. Gotham idea of celebrity. Be seen everywhere.

Abel Green, who coins so much of Variety's slang could be the leading hardware merchant of Plattsmouth, Neb. Add wry smilers: Brock Pemberton, Frank Case and John D., Jr. That bonfire glow in the Jersey hills as the sun goes down. Lime-light droppers-outers: Peggy Fears and A. C. Blumenthal.

The last stand of Mah Jong in New York is in Chinatown, where it will, of course, never die. The Chinatown wives have their Mah Jong clubs just as Occidental wives have their bridge organizations. They meet at each other's apartments over the stores once or twice a week, but always play for small stakes.

Most Chinatown wives these days are American born, natives of New York, Chicago, or San Francisco—as chic as a Peggy Hoyt model, and scarcely any talk with accent. A recent survey revealed the modern touch when it was found four out of six had read, "Gone With the Wind." When they go uptown they wear American clothes but in their husband's shops they dress as they do in China. There are many young girls there who have been sent back to China to learn Chinese. All speak it fluently. It is a mark against a Chinese not to have mastered the native tongue. Those who have not are shunned.

Of Orientals, the Chinese interest me most. I was fascinated by them in the days of Sam Lee's laundry in our town and loafed there much of the time. One of my proudest achievements was picking up a few phrases and ventilating them when boys from the country came in for their weekly wash. They thought I was quite a one. In New York I know several laundrymen and a number of merchants in Chinatown. Anna May Wong once promised to take me on a personally conducted tour of the Chinese quarter but we never got around to it. Chinese are careful with their tongue. I have yet to hear one criticize a person or institution. And back of it all they give a bland and baffling impression that they are not concerned over not being assimilated by the Occident. They have an enormous pride of race. And an enormous sense of humor.

Helen Morgan sailing to London, intimated to ship news reporters that she may never return. The one-time Ziegfeld star and queen of the night clubs is miffed a bit, it is said, at the decline of her drawing power. Engagements of late have been a bit scanty, but should she retire tomorrow she has had more adulation than most stars with thin talent. Her torch laments atop a piano rarely varied, yet the public applauded them for many years. She could fill a night club in any part of America. One magnificent salon was built for her and called, "The House of Morgan," at a cost of $100,000 for the decorations alone. She cast the engagement aside simply because she did not like the set-up. Miss Morgan was perhaps the most generous entertainer of her time. On several occasions she has tossed parties for her orchestra and fellow performers that ran up checks for the night of $1,500. A creature of moods, she is at times as sad as her songs and at other times as gay as a lark. Her devotion to her mother has been often and deservedly remarked.

Nothing irritates me quite so expertly as, when dining out, those show-off male dancers executing special steps on a crowded floor and expressing a look-at-me manner. Also they are always catching me watching them. Lately I have been employing a little deception by cupping my head in my hands and pretending to read the menu while peeping at them through my fingers. That's tricking them!

Set New Dates For St. Anthony's Fete

New Castle's annual St. Anthony's celebration in the South Side district will take place Sunday and Monday, June 13 and 14, and not on June 11 and 12 as announced earlier, Joseph Angelo, general chairman for the affair, announced today.

"The committee changed the dates after its first announcement," said Mr. Angelo. "We plan a gala program, starting with a quiet observance on Sunday and ending with a colorful fireworks display Monday night."

Eckert Against Placing Camp Jobs In Civil Service

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14—Representative Charles R. Eckert, of Beaver joined this week with a House of Representatives group which successfully rejected efforts of Administration leaders to place CCC camp administrative jobs under the civil service system.

The revolt came when the House passed a bill continuing the CCC for two years. Administration leaders had placed in the measure a proviso that all CCC administrative jobs be supervised by the Civil Service Commission, but the House threw this proviso out by a 232 to 146 ballot. Representative Eckert voted with those who successfully opposed the civil service extension.

Rejection of the civil service proviso was regarded as a defeat for Mr. Roosevelt.

The meanest husband is the one who sees his wife bossing things and kills her joy by saying that's fine because he can't be bothered with such small matters.

The Forebearance Of Isaac

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

One of the wells of Isaac at Beer-Sheba.

Matthew 5:9—"Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the sons of God."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 16 Genesis 21:1-25:18; 26-1-33, especially 26:12-25, the Golden Text being Matthew 5:9, "Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the sons of God.)

Isaac though not as strong a character as Abraham his father, nor as aggressive as Jacob his son, was, nevertheless a great man of faith, of quiet, contemplative, submissive faith. His birth was the reward of the faith of his father Abraham. On Mt. Moriah he shared his father's faith in his willingly yielding himself to the altar and the knife for he was no mere youth but as Josephus tells us, a man of 27 years. He offered to be sacrificed, believing that God would restore his life by a resurrection from the dead.

Isaac and Rebecca

The choice of Rebecca as Isaac's wife was a matter of faith. Abraham wanted no "mixed marriages" for his son with a woman of Canaan. Nor did he want to risk Isaac's return to his own people. Not only did Abraham's servant pray for divine guidance, when sent to select a bride for his Master's son, but Isaac must have shared in these prayers for guidance, for at the servant's return with his bride Isaac is found in prayer. "And Isaac went out to meditate (literally "to bow down") in the field at the eventide, and he lifted up his eyes and saw and, behold, there were camels coming. And Rebecca lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Isaac, she lighted off the camel....and she took her veil and covered herself..' The scene is typically oriental. But the place it gives to prayer and faith in seeking a suitable life companion may very properly be emulated among us today. The characteristics of faith, kindness, hospitality, unselfishness and serving love were set up as a standard for the wife of Isaac. And Rebecca, not knowing that she was being tested by this standard, met all requirements. Her willingness to go forth into a strange land at the call of God showed that she was endowed with the same heroic faith that made Abraham the friend of God.

Isaac The Peacemaker

Isaac's was a quiet, pastoral life, building altars, pitching tents and digging wells. To him God reaffirmed the covenant made with his father: "I will multiply they seed as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these lands and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." God had a great program to fulfill through him, a program leading up to the altar of Calvary's Cross to which God's only begotten Son should be bound in sacrifice as Isaac had been bound to the altar on Mt. Moriah, except that for Isaac there was a lamb provided as a substitute, while for Christ there could be no substitute, he himself being "the lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

Isaac's Wells

"And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham." So have we allowed the Philistines of sin and worldliness to clog up the wells our fathers digged.

The Federal tax isn't the heaviest. The taxes that cost most are the ones we impose on ourselves.

FISHING FOR AN ANSWER!

A small boy was late for Sunday school and the minister inquired the cause.

"I was going fishing, but father wouldn't let me," said the boy.

"That's the right kind of father to have," replied the minister. "And did he explain why you were not to go?"

"Yes, sir. He said there wasn't enough bait for both of us."

Oh, Social Security, what insecurity is planned in thy name.

THIS year, good things come in eights—get into this bellwether Buick and the other fellow will know who's lead-off man in your neck of the woods!

You're boss of the bunch when you ease in gas to the great valve-in-head straight eight, ablest engine of its size anywhere in the world. It's soft of voice but it packs authority—there isn't any fooling when it has work to do!

You're the envy of all eyes, garbed in Buick's princely style—handling these ready controls is the softest job in the whole wide world.

You stream down the straightaway—soar over the tallest hills—you sweep around the corners and curves erect as a dowager making her entrance—why even the back seat's chatterproof, so sweetly, smoothly, serenely does this road-wise car conduct itself!

You can't hurt it—it's built rugged and stout as Buick always has been—but still we say, handle with care! For so instant-quick is its lift to your toe-touch, so quietly easy will it outwing the birds, that you never have to force it to make your distance safely with time to spare.

This year say Buick—and whatever you say on the open road will go with the whole parade. Its purchase is as easily managed as its feather-light controls—for today Buick is priced at the lowest figure in history.

Your cue now is to see us. Do that without delay and you'll hold the center of the stage all summer long!

Chorus To Take Part In School Program

Cowboy Play To Be Presented By 7A1 Students Of Mahoning School, Friday.

The pupils of the 7A1 class of the Mahoning school have become student authors and an amusing cowboy play has been the result of their effort. In it cowboy lingo is used, mouth organs are played with cowboy zest and spirit and real cowboy outfits add to the whole play. The scenery is so realistic that it seems to whisk one off to the west.

Also included in the program that will be presented on Friday, May 21, at 2:30 p. m., is the Junior High girls' chorus and the orchestra under the direction of Miss Gladys Thomas and the first grade chorus under the direction of Miss Jean McLure.

The play and the chorus of cowboys have been directed by Miss June Kyle, while the scenery has been supervised by Miss Davenport.

Climalene without soap washes better than soap without Climalene

That's how marvelous CLIMALENE is! . . . you can dispense with soap altogether and it will never be missed, but in any cleansing operation you like to see good soap suds.

So do this!

Sprinkle a little CLIMALENE in water to see soap suds at their best . . . rich, white, billowing bubbles . . . the finest, safest, cleansing combination ever discovered.

Never before have you seen such soap suds with ½ the soap, and you've never seen such amazing cleaning results with ½ the labor.

CLIMALENE softens hard water . . . gives twice the cleaning action to any soap, cuts like a knife through grease and grime . . . with utter safety . . . and gives to your china and glassware the sheen of a window in the sun.

CLIMALENE makes white clothes whiter and colored clothes color-fresh as new . . . and with CLIMALENE on guard neither bar soap nor powder, nor flakes, can cause "soap scum," "soap fade," or "soap eat," cause damage to stoutest linens or delicate lingerie.

Get Climalene from your grocer today; two sizes — 10c, 25c. You will be glad tomorrow. The Climalene Company, Canton, Ohio.

TWENTY-FIVE SOLID CARLOADS OF FINE FURNITURE BOUGHT ON THE LOW PRICE 1936 MARKET CANNOT BE PROPERLY STORED DUE TO WAREHOUSE CONGESTION - - - MERCHANDISE NOW IN PROCESS OF DELIVERY FACES IMMEDIATE DISPOSAL!

A GLIMPSE OF HANEY'S SOLIDLY PACKED WAREHOUSE

A rough idea of Haney's solidly packed warehouse can be obtained from the above photograph. The entire floors are solidly packed from floor to ceiling. Merchandise can only be removed with great difficulty It is to relieve this congestion that this great sale has been planned.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC!

We instructed Haney's buyers to buy heavily on last year's Low Market. We were sure that commodity prices would rise, particularly furniture. Today with furniture prices soaring to undreamed heights the wisdom of this move is daily more apparent. We pledged ourselves to accept huge quantities of merchandise believing our warehouse facilities equal to the task. Today, however we are confronted with the fact that our warehouse facilities are wholly inadequate and despite the fact that we have rented numerous storerooms in and about the town, car after car of merchandise cannot be properly housed. I have ordered this sale with the purpose of relieving the situation. The value-minded furniture buyers will save as they have seldom saved before.

Federal Court Has Reversed Decision In Regard To Dam

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., May 14.—A federal district court decision restraining the Tennessee Valley Authority from expanding its huge government power project in competition with private business was reversed today by the federal circuit court of appeals.

The circuit court upset the decision of District Judge John Gore, Knoxville, who granted an injunction to 19 private utility companies preventing the TVA from extending or building new power lines and in effect tying up the expansion program of the government project.

The circuit court did not pass on the constitutionality of the act creating the TVA. It remanded the case to the district court at Knoxville, Tenn., for a new trial.

Ruth Ballenger, 19, and Charles Hillen applied for a marriage license at Columbus, O., last Monday. Miss Ballenger appeared at probate court yesterday with Leroy Ayers, 26, seeking another marriage license. The clerk remembered her and asked her to explain. "I like this man better," she said, and the license was issued.

Twelve days after his wife died, Lee Keltz, 68, of Kaylor, Butler county, was stricken with a heart attack and died Wednesday at the home of his niece, Mrs. Archie Kaylor, Butler R. D. 2. Mr. Keltz, for many years an engineer for the Western Allegheny railroad, was a member of the F. & A. M. of New Castle, and was known in this section.

A youth employed at a Meadville garage dashed out into the street one morning this week with his trousers ablaze. He was closely followed by a fellow-employe with a hand fire extinguisher. A well directed squirt put the blaze out, and the boy was not badly burned. A jet flame used in the garage work was the cause of the mischief.

Darlington firemen are credited with the saving of the old Caughey homestead on the Morado-Darlington road, Wednesday afternoon. The blaze had been discovered by Miss Merle Caughey who was washing clothes in a small outbuilding. She looked up to see smoke pouring from beneath the eaves of the dwelling. The firemen were called. Neighbors helped carry household goods to safety.

Although the case of the Thayer Company against the County of Lawrence is finished insofar as the trial in this county is concerned, there is still a possibility that there may be further litigation in it.

Either side has the right of appeal although it is thought hardly likely the county will appeal the verdict. Whether or not the Thayer Company will do so has not been determined as yet.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar the following actions have been filed.

Lillian M. White, executor in the estate of the late A. A. White files an action to recover a judgment of $759.43 plus interest from February 22, 1937 plus $75.94 attorney's fees. The defendant is Florence Wilkison.

Auto Racers Escape Death

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14—George Barringer, 31, of Wichita Falls, Tex. and his mechanic, Bob Eastrich, of Indianapolis, escaped injury when their racer, traveling 112 miles an hour, went into a double loop at the motor speedway track Thursday.

Barringer lost control of the northwest turn as he practiced for the 500-mile race. The car plunged into the upper wall, then spun about on the track, and landed on the safety apron.

The automobile, entered by Pete Depaolo, 1936 champion, was not damaged badly.

THIS MONROE STREET LADY OVERJOYED AT BLESSED RELIEF "VENDOL" GAVE

"I Bloated With Gas Until My Clothes Felt Tight And Had Gas Pains That were Simply Torture. But Now Vendol has Given Such Marvelous Relief From Constipation that All My Other Troubles Are Gone And I Feel Like A Different Person."

"I cannot praise Vendol too highly for the grand relief it gave me," says Miss Olive B. Beil.

Miss Olive B. Beil of 714 Monroe St., New Castle, for many years employed by G. R. Kinney Co., is the latest widely known local resident to come forward with a remarkable statement praising and recommending Vendol, which is the amazing new mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs combined with Valuable Alkalines now being introduced here in this city at New Castle Drug Co., by the Vendol Man.

What this well known party has to say about Vendol is truly amazing. Read the statement through. Find out what this remarkable compound is doing for others in this city.

"For years I had been a suffering person with a gassy, bloated stomach condition that kept me uncomfortable all the time. After meals I would bloat with gas until often my clothes felt tight. A sour, hot liquid would rise in my throat and burn like fire. I often felt dizzy with little spots dancing before my eyes. My nerves kept me awake by the hour.

"All my troubles came from being constipated so badly and finally my system became so backed-up with poisons that I began to have pains all over my body.

"So you see I was a miserable person. I had taken different medicines, then one day I read about Vendol and how it was helping so many people all over this city and nearby towns. I got some and am simply overjoyed at the relief Vendol gave.

"It relieved that awful constipation and then the gas and acid stomach condition was relieved so that I can eat my meals and enjoy them now. I never have the pains or bloating, nerves have relaxed, sleep sound and feel full of pep and energy all the time. I think the little Vendol laxative tablets are grand and are a big help in cleansing the bowels. I feel like a different person, so gladly recommend Vendol to everyone who suffers like I did."

If you are suffering from indigestion, excess acidity in the stomach, have headaches, acid risings, heartburn, heavy feeling in the pit of your stomach, lump in the throat, have spots before your eyes, feel dizzy, nervous and your tongue is coated, or many other symptoms when due to constipation, visit your nearest druggist and get Vendol. The pleasant, zippy taste of Nature's roots and herbs, the quick Alkalizing effect, will convince you beyond all doubt that Vendol is the finest medicine you can buy for these troubles. So don't wait, start taking Vendol today.

Come to the New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., and let the Vendol Man explain fully how it will help you, too. The New Castle Co. at 24 N. Mill St., also sell Vendol.

Utility Head Is Local Visitor

President Of Commonwealth And Southern Here On Thursday

SEES EXPANSION IN NEXT TWO YEARS

WENDELL L. WILLKIE

The general office of the Pennsylvania Power Company here was the host yesterday to Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, with which the local company is affiliated. Mr. Willkie, one of the youngest utility leaders of the country, is the outstanding example of the new school of utility operators. A recent article in a prominent national magazine characterized him as a "president whose economic ideas are as remote from those of the silk-hatted Insull or Hopson type of utility promotor as a successful businessman's can well be."

Mr. Willkie's rise in the utility industry has been phenomenal. On his return from France at the close of the war he became associated with the legal department of one of the Akron rubber companies and shortly thereafter entered a law firm which included among its clients the predecessor company of the present Ohio Edison Company. When Commonwealth & Southern Corporation was formed he went to New York as a member of the firm handling that company's legal work, and, upon the retirement of B. C. Cobb, then chairman of the board, Mr. Willkie was made president.

The company which he heads is third in size among the country's utility systems and has been cited by some of the industry's severest critics as having most nearly approached the ideal in utility operation and management. In the magazine article above referred to, Commonwealth & Southern's Corporate structure, it is stated, "responds like a flute to all the primary tests of holding company cleanliness."

Mr. Willkie attended a meeting of the company's board of directors yesterday and last night spoke before the forum meeting of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce in Youngstown.

When asked concerning business conditions generally and future utility prospects, Mr. Willkie stated "the next two years in my judgment will be years of great business expansion in which the utilities will be required to expend many millions in expanding their facilities.

"Dictators are well guarded," says a correspondent. Well, what of it? America also guards people who think they are Napoleon.

COMING
To End
RUPTURE
Troubles

Mr. F. S. Horn, representative of Wm. H. Horn & Bro., Inc., Philadelphia, Truss manufacturers, will be personally at New Castle Drug Co., 24 North Mill St., May 15th., from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. to give a demonstration of his method to all suffers who want to end rupture trouble.

No matter how bad the rupture, how long you have had it, or how hard to hold; no matter how many kinds of trusses you have worn. Whether you are tall and thin, short and stout, have a large abdomen, whether you think you are past help or have a rupture as large as your fists, this marvelous method will so control and keep it up inside as to surprise you. It will so restore the parts where the rupture comes through that soon you will be as free to work at any occupation as though you had never been ruptured.

For the lady callers a woman expert, thoroughly trained, will assist in the demonstrations.

You owe it to your own personal comfort and safety not to miss this great demonstration. It is a real opportunity to learn how you may be done with chaffing trusses and the danger, suffering and trouble your rupture has caused.

GRANNY KNEW HOW TO TREAT THE SICK

"When You Are Sick You Are Sick All Over," Says Mr. Schmidt

"Over the water where I was born the health of our little village was looked after by an old woman, whom everybody called Granny. When any of our people were really sick, Granny used to make up a herb tea—and it was almost a sure remedy. I remember that she used to say that no one should take more than one medicine at a time—that it was not really medicine if pills and powders had to be taken with it.

"After I had been sick with the flu a long time last winter this saying of Granny came back to me, and I sent for World's Tonic, which I had seen advertised as a real medicine requiring nothing else to be taken with it. You see, I had been sick for many weeks, and I had taken so many different kinds of drugs that I do not think anybody could fortell the effects," declared Franz Schmidt, a blacksmith in McKeesport, Pa.

"Anyhow, I did not get well with all of these medicines. Flu left me with my whole system out of order. I was badly constipated, and I had to take physics at least three times a week. My liver was so sluggish that my eyes actually got yellowish, and I had a liver medicine for that. My kidneys hurt all the time and I had rheumatism, with medicine for that. My stomach was very troublesome, and I had two kinds of medicine for that. But with all of these medicines I kept on getting weaker and weaker. I could not digest what I ate, and I got as thin as I could. My skin was yellow, my tongue was coated and my breath bad. At times black spots danced before my eyes, and I felt so queer I feared I was going to have a stroke.

"This kept on for weeks, until one day I determined to throw away all of these medicines and follow Granny's advice by taking one medicine. I got World's Tonic. First thing I noticed was that this tonic actually tasted like one of Granny's herb teas. I have learned since that World's Tonic is composed of ingredients gathered from different parts of the world, and it may well be that it has the same things Granny used. But the next thing I noticed was that this good medicine was actually helping me. For one thing, it relieved my constipation right away, and it set my liver to working. Then it got in some good work on my stomach, and in two weeks I could eat and had a good appetite. After that I got well quickly and easily.

"No more mixing medicines for me. Old Granny was right. When you are sick you are sick all over, and you need a medicine that treats the entire system. This I found in World's Tonic, with wonderful results, for I got well and stay well with it." World's Tonic can be had of Eckerd's, Paisley's, or of any other first class drug store. (B-99)

'Be Natural" Is Advice To Women By Beauty Expert

Avoid Artificiality, Consultant Sent Here By Charles Of The Ritz, Says

"Be natural!"

That is the watchword for the spring of 1937, according to Miss Jennie Taine, personal representative of the famous Charles of the Ritz, who has just arrived for a short engagement at the beauty salon of the New Castle Dry Goods company. And with that simple watchword, all the doors of beauty and happiness can be magically opened.

Miss Taine, quick, energetic—and charming, has had 25 years of experience in cosmetology not only in America but in six European countries as well. And here is a bit of sound advice she gave this morning in an informal talk with one of The News society writers:

"Avoid anything that looks artificial. Try above everything else to be natural. Powders and rouge are for one purpose—to heighten natural beauty, not to mask it."

Miss Taine, who will be at the local store today and Saturday, through Saturday evening, is a deft artist in blending powders and rouges to suit the individual requirements of her clients. The color is worked in so skillfully that it is difficult to tell where it begins and ends.

The make-up style that used to be the college girl ideal, bright spots of color in the cheeks and a crimson slash for a mouth is entirely out-of-date, New Castle's visitor said, smiling. She then went on to say that there are other things important to beauty besides proper cosmetics—diet, for instance, and attitude of mind. In other words, beauty is not only "skin deep."

LIBRARY INTERIOR JOB MOVES AHEAD

Inside Looks Change As WPA Rushes Work; Cut New Entrance

New Castle's future library still looked much like the old post office on the outside today but inside, above piles of debris and boards and tool boxes, it began to look more like the library that architects have planned.

This week a force of 32 WPA workmen are rushing the reconditioning job along. Walls are going out here and doors are going in there, with speed the keynote.

The large group of workers will be kept on the project right along, it is understood, and the interior renovation will go forward rapidly. Library officials and those in charge expressed themselves as pleased with the progress and indicated there won't be any delays.

Two of the jobs now under way are the erection of the second floor corridor walk and the cutting of a new entrance through the rear wall on the southeast side.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

STATE'S HIGHEST PEAK

Do you know that Mt. Davis, Pennsylvania's highest elevation, is not a peak or point, but a large plateau?

Mt. Davis is situated in Somerset county and is the high point of Negro Mountain. The elevation is 3,213 feet. A stone marker denotes the high point. A tower erected at this place affords panoramic views in all directions. A small house with an open fire-place offers accommodations to visitors. Near the house a well was sunk from which pure drinking water may be pumped. Many roads built by members of a C. C. C. camp encircle the mountain.

Meyersdale offers all kinds of accommodations to visitors who may want to explore this region or motor to the "Roof Garden of Pennsylvania."

MOTHERS ARE RESPONSIBLE

The family looks to you to aid your doctor in keeping them well. You can help prevent much illness and poor health by guarding them from common constipation.

Most constipation comes from faulty diet—meals low in "bulk." This condition can be corrected so easily and pleasantly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides the safe way to prevent constipation by putting "bulk" back in the diet. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass which gently sponges out the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron. It is so much better for your family than constant dosing with artificial pills and drugs.

Two tablespoonfuls daily as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes, are enough for the average person. Three times daily in severe cases.

Sold at all grocers—and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

AROUND CITY HALL

City of New Castle will give certificates of indebtedness to the firms which are awarded contracts for street paving material and in turn the cost of material will be assessed against properties abutting on the streets improved. The cost of the material will approximate $27,000, according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. The WPA will provide the labor.

It is reported that the concrete curb on several streets improved within the last year or more is cracking and according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop the cause as yet is unknown. The curb has crumbled at different places and in order to ascertain the reason Throop intends to send a sample to a laboratory for a test.

Many years ago the Boyles Field Land company gave about 35 acres of ground to the city. Yesterday this was recalled when Attorney George Muse representing W. L. Aiken and P. J. Fike asked council if a compromise could be reached on liens filed against three lots. They would like to arrange to pay the face and cost of the liens.

Within a short time police will draw slips out of a hat which will designate the vacation period of each officer....Patrol is now in operation at the police station....Streets along which parking meters will be installed have not yet been definitely decided upon....It is possible that a uniform parking time on the streets will be established.

Temperance Rally Held Thursday

Meeting Is Well Attended At People's Mission On Sampson Street

Good attendance and interest were shown at the Temperance Rally held at the Peoples Mission on Sampson street Thursday evening under the auspices of the New Castle District of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and the W. C. T. U.

A stirring temperance address was delivered by Attorney R. L. Wallace who stated that conditions were worse now than they ever had been and that the Christian people would have to stir themselves or the drink evil would be made respectable by the propaganda and advertising that is being used in its favor.

The dramatization by Dr. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, on the theme, "The Convict's Soliloquy" was impressive and the test tube demonstration by Miss Alice Grimes on the effects of alcohol on food, was both interesting and instructive.

The children of the Thaddeus Stevens school put on a Temperance play in which about fifteen children took an active part. The children, under the direction of Miss Anna Perry, principal of the school, and Alice Grimes a teacher, worked up the play themselves.

The children of the Mission under the leadership of Rev. Richard Owrey, sang a number of Temperance songs.

The meeting was presided over by H. L. Marvin, president of the New Castle district, and Mrs. J. B. McClaren was called upon to speak for the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Mary Balph, Temperance Superintendent of the New Castle District was also introduced.

Shebuoth To Be Observed

Orthodox And Reform Jews To Celebrate Holiday Beginning Saturday Night

Shebuoth, the Feast of Weeks, will be observed by the Jewish people beginning Saturday evening at sundown. It is celebrated by Orthodox Jews for two days and one day by Reform Jews. The festival derives its name from the fact that it occurs seven weeks after Passover. Since it starts on the 50th day, it is also known as Pentecost.

The holiday is one of three pilgrimage festivals of the Bible and in ancient times was the occasion for bringing offerings of first fruits and grain to the temple in Jerusalem. Originally an agricultural festival, Shebuoth is referred to in the Bible as the "feast of the offering of the first crops." The idyllic scenes of husbandry and harvesting of the Book of Ruth are symbolic of this day.

For the last several centuries, however, the festival has been identified with the "Season of the Giving of the Law". It became the traditional anniversary of the giving of the Ten Commandments to Moses o Mt. Sinai. For this reason the commandments are read as the Bible portion of the synagogue service.

Because of the traditional association, practically all liberal synagogues have selected Shebuoth as the day suitable for confirmation. Boys and girls, after having been taught the meaning of the Jewish faith and the duty of leading a truly religious life, accept this faith as did their forefathers at Mt. Sinai.

Services will be held at Tifereth Israel synogogue Saturday and Sunday evenings and Sunday and Monday mornings. Temple Israel will hold its closing religious school exercises Sunday afternoon with an appropriate Shebuoth program.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

From the earliest times seamen have developed customs and traditions of their own regarding all seagoing matters. One such tradition has to do with the etiquette of small boats that are used for transporting men and supplies from ship to shore. The junior man or officer goes into a boat first and leaves the boat last. The senior man enters last and leaves first. Also, the senior man or senior officers occupies the choice seat, nearest the stern, and others sit in order with the junior farthest forward. While underway all hands should sit down in a boat, if possible, but while a senior officer is entering or leaving a boat all hands stand up. When a small boat carrying an officer of high rank passes close to a ship, attention is sounded on the bugle and all hands on the ship stand at attention and render a hand salute to the officer passing. When large ships pass each other the same courtesies are rendered.

The Navy maintains 258 recruiting stations throughout the United States. These stations are manned by about seventy officers and 600 enlisted men. The personnel on recruiting duty in the Navy are not professional recruiters, but sea-faring men who have served from 12 to 20 years at sea and are entitled to a tour of duty on shore. At the expiration of this tour of duty on shore the men are returned to some ship in the Navy for further service.

LEONARD ELECTRIC WITH THE Master Dial
THAT LETS YOU CONTROL THE OPERATION OF YOUR LEONARD TO SECURE LOWEST OPERATING COST

LAST year's prize refrigerator buy was the 1936 Leonard Electric. Everybody who owns one will tell you that. It used little current. No other offered so many features. It was packed with extra values.
That is because of Leonard's unfailing policy, for 56 years, to give the public more for its money. And all that was true of the 1936 Leonard is even truer of Leonard for 1937!
Greatest 1937 improvement is the Leonard Master Dial. It's something you can't afford to miss seeing. It means better refrigeration service—at less cost.
And Leonard is still the only refrigerator to offer you the Len-A-Dor Pedal, that opens the door with a touch of your toe... and the handy service shelf inside the door... plus all the features listed in the panel to the right.
All these are part of Leonard's great dominating objective—to give you more for your money. Know what a truly modern refrigerator can be . . . all it can do for you! See the Leonard Electric, with the Master Dial.

Will Feller Turn Out To Be "Lemon"

Fans Anxiously Await Next Appearance Of Schoolboy Sensation On Mound

Did He Hurt His Arm?, Graduates Tonight, May Face Yankees On May 23

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 14.—Nobody really knows, least of all Umpire Bill Klem who originally did a rave on the youth, lasting through several daily installments and then going into a sort of "add rave" for the Saturday supplements. But all baseball is beginning to suspect a lot about fabulous Bob Feller, of the Cleveland club, including the idea that currently he's less a prize exhibit than a museum piece, only they don't mean that his right arm is under glass. They mean full of it.

Graduates Tonight

For one thing, the young man is now out of circulation, back in old Van Meter, Ia., where he expects to graduate from high school tonight. For another, there's the story being bandied around the league of a summary confiscation of films, taken of Feller in action by a fellow Cleveland player. For a third, there's the fact that he's pitched once this season, been batted for everything but his intellect by the Browns and, after being pulled in the middle of the game, they said he had strained his arm.

At the time, the club physician solemnly announced that Feller would return to the lineup "soon." But that was some weeks ago and now what everybody wants to know is, when is soon? Personally, after working on that half the night, the best I can do is answer the question by asking two others: (A) How far is away? (B) How much is back?

May Pitch May 23

I may say that I do not plan to remain long baffled in this matter, but so far haven't been able to give it my undivided attention, owing to the strange behavior of Cy (Slap-How?) Slapnicka, the Cleveland business manager. Cy (Slap, to you) has been as mysterious as a druggist in the back room, so it's only a rumor that they plan to unveil Feller again in the opening game here with the Yankees, May 23, when—properly advised of the selection—a big Sunday crowd can be persuaded into the place.

But, if Feller really is to be ready by that time, what causes the story that Catcher Billy Sullivan took some pictures of the 18-year-old and then, they say, was invited into the club house and told to disgorge? What, for example, could a picture show that Feller himself didn't personally reveal during the exhibition season while striking out so many New York Giants that they thought maybe he was throwing a moth ball?

Carl Hubbell Halts Pirates By Score 5 To 2

Turns In 21st Straight Victory As He Sets Pittsburgh Down

ATHLETICS ARE "STEALING SHOW"

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 14.—Something should be done about it and probably will be before many more weeks, but for the time being the Philadelphia Athletics are stealing the American league show.

Here is a club of odds and ends gathered from no place in particular by Manager Connie Mack, who is beyond 70 years of age, still it wins ball games and currently is leading the circuit.

The A's will be given a test beginning tomorrow when they play host to the Yankees, who are long overdue in their hitting, and follow that one up by entertaining the Detroit Tigers, possibly the club with which the Yankees finally will be making the race.

Tigers Defeat Sox

The Athletics and the Cleveland Indians, currently in second place, idled in the rain yesterday, and the Tigers, behind the airtight pitching of George Gill, a rookie right-hander, shut out the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 0. Wes Ferrell was the victim of Gill's pitching wizardry.

By that victory, the Tigers kept pace with the Yankees, who were pitched to a 4 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns by Lefty Gomez, and the two clubs climbed over the Red Sox to stand in a deadlock for third and fourth places.

In the only other American league game, the Washington Senators pounded out 14 hits to beat the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 2.

Beginning today, the eastern clubs of the American league return from the west, curtailing the schedule to a pair of games, and the western clubs of the National league go back west, leaving only three games—with the Pittsburgh Pirates still on top in the latter circuit.

Hubbell Halts Pirates

The Pirates lost yesterday to Carl Hubbell after having put together a string of five straight victories. Hubbell achieved the conquest by 5 to 2 and stretched his streak of wins to 21—16 to the close of last season and five more in the current campaign—for the greatest consecutive win record ever compiled by any pitcher. The only two runs he allowed were homers by Arky Vaughan.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to amaze their constituents in winning their fourth straight game, best record compiled by them in two years. The count was 6 to 4 and the Cincinnati Reds were the victims.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 4, and the Chicago Cubs turned back the Boston Bees, 8 to 6, in 12 innings.

The successful ruler is one who keeps people excited about unimportant matters so they won't think about important ones.

Correct this sentence: "He lives in another section," said the man, "but he wrote a piece about our section that pleased all of us."

Pirates End Eastern Trip

Team Welcomed Back To Pittsburgh, Fans Start Talking About Pennant

HITTERS START POUNDING "APPLE"

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, May 14. — The Pittsburgh Pirates came home today leading the National league and the Pittsburgh fans already are suffering pennantitis".

Completing a successful tour of the east, the Pirates have to date won 14 and lost four games.

Pitching, which most observers believed was the Pirates' weak spot, has been, thus far, the most phenomenal factor in the pace-setting of the bold Buccaneers.

Hitters Active.

But such hitters as Arky Vaughan, Paul Waner, Gus Suhr and Al Todd could not be silenced forever and in the latter part of the eastern trip they started to show signs of life.

Getting back to pitching, even the so-called starters haven't been getting the usual four days work. It seems Manager Pie Traynor can call on any one of his big guns and they respond in fine fettle.

Another factor in the Pirates' drive toward their first pennant in ten years will be the reserve strength. On the bench are such outstanding stars as Lloyd Waner, one of the best outfielders in the game today and often classed with Tris Speaker when it comes to shagging them in center field.

Good Reserves.

Along with Waner the younger, for reserve outfield duty is Fred Schulte, veteran of the American league, who came to the Pirates via the waiver route last year. Schulte has not only been dependable in relief roles, but also is a great pinch-hitter. Swinging from the right side, he helps offset the opposition attack when facing left handed pitching.

In the infield, Floyd "Pep" Young, who has been with the local club since coming from the minors, already has proven his worth. A fine hitter, and an even more classy infielder, Young is the answer to any manager's prayer. Young can play any position on the infield with the exception of first base, and probably could play there, too, if it wasn't for his stature. If worse came to worse, he could be shifted to the outfield, his former post while in the minors. Although not regarded a dangerous hitter, he is well respected by opposing pitchers.

Need Reserve Catcher.

It is in the catching staff that a weak link can be found. With Al Todd hitting, everything goes well, but his understudy doesn't seem to fill the bill on a pennant winning club.

Tommy Padden, who is No. 1 reserve, has the spirit, hustle and heart, but his best showing doesn't seem enough. If fate plays the same trick as last year and Todd is lost for any length of time due to injuries, the pennant flag may "fly the coop", and is liable to be floating over some foreign field, as in the last ten years.

But, disregarding all the ifs, the Pirates look like the goods, even though it is early in the season and anything can happen. They have arrived home from their first tour of foreign soil complete masters of the situation.

City League Opens Sunday

The New Castle city baseball league will open the 1937 season on Sunday with the playing of four games. No umpires will be assigned to the games, the managers will pick out two men from the crowd and must be agreed upon by both managers.

In event of good weather, big crowds will be on hand at the E. & A. field, Lee avenue field, Glasser field and Ryantown field for the opening ceremonies.

Youngsters Will Have Track Team

The young boys of the three junior high schools of New Castle will have a track and field meet at Washington High next Wednesday it was announced by Bill Wallace today.

There will be three classes according to Wright in the meet. The older boys will have a meet at Taggart Field on May 24th, it was announced.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)

The hero—Phil Cavaretta, whose 12th inning double gave the Cubs an 8 to 6 win over the Bees.

The goat—Ed Brandt of the Pirates, who was called upon yesterday to face the invincible Carl Hubbell and failed to go the route as Giants won, 5 to 2.

County League Meeting Saturday

Representatives Of County And City Teams Invited To Session

William G. Andrews, vice president of the Lawrence county baseball league, today stated that there would be a baseball meeting at 9 o'clock Saturday night at the Sport Goods Store for the purpose of discussing county league prospects for this year.

He issued an invitation to baseball representatives of New Bedford, Castlewood, Princeton, Rose Point, Edenburg, Enon Valley and any other baseball team that would like to enter the county circuit.

Colonial A. C. To Be Reorganized

The Colonial A. C. baseball team will be reorganized, it was announced today. The Colonials made a strong bid for a city league berth, but lacked the franchise money. The Colonials will play an independent schedule this year.

The team will probably be one of the strongest in the city and county. A practice session will be held Monday at Colonial field. The following are asked to report: Jess McCann, Jack McCann, Cramer, Dom Morgan, Sargent, Drake, Mike Budai, T. DeLone, H. Frank, Swisher, Hoskins, R. Maxwell, D. Cannon, Reynolds, Jackson, Campbell and any others who desire a tryout.

The Colonials would like to arrange a few games with the city league teams.

Common people can't afford to imitate their betters now. The common who act that way go to jail.

League Matches Are Rained Out

The New Castle Church golf league matches scheduled for last night at Sylvan Heights course were rained out. The schedule will be followed through and the matches next week will be played as scheduled at the Castle Hills course, it was announced by W. I. Clark, president of the league.

The matches which were postponed last night, will be played at a later date it was announced, probably at the end of the first half of the league season or at the end of the regular season, but it was the contention that the schedule should "Follow Through."

Ryantown Team Meets Tonight

The members of the Ryantown baseball team of the city league are asked to meet tonight at 6 o'clock at the home of Joe Samuels on Emery street. Uniforms will be given out at the meeting tonight. Any player not reporting tonight will not have a uniform for the opening game on Sunday with the South Side Board of Trade team.

Umpires To Meet On Monday Night

The Lawrence County Umpires Association will have a special meeting Monday at the Y at 7:30 o'clock to thrash out the City league umpiring matter. The decision to be reached Monday will be final, it was intimated by Leo Hill, president of the League.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Albert Falquist, baseball coach at McKeesport high school, was named manager of the McKeesport team in the Pennsylvania State Baseball association. The appointment was made by Elmer Daily, president of the organization.

Rain washed out golf and tennis matches scheduled for western Pennsylvania yesterday.

Joe Louis was 23 years old yesterday but instead of celebrating his entry into the world he issued a call for sparring partners then went on a 10 mile road jaunt. He is to box Champion Heavyweight James J. Braddock in Chicago, June 22. Louis weighs 208 but plans to enter the ring at 200 pounds.

Four Jockeys Are Injured

Three of the jockeys—Pablo Martinez, 50-year-old veteran, Walter Stark, who rides for Bing Crosby, and Frankie Chojnacki—were injured seriously. The fourth jockey, Bert Thornton, was badly bruised.

The accident occurred when Barsac with Stark up, fell. Three other horses, including Lobitos, ridden by Chojnacki, piled on top of him.

Merely won the race.

New Castle Club To Shoot Tonight

Will Have Get-Together Saturday Night, Trophy To Be Presented

The New Castle Rifle club members will have a shoot at the Cathedral range tonight at 7:30 o'clock with the Greenville Rifle club, it was announced by Leo W. Hill.

The league champions will have a get-together party on the Ellwood road Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock. At 6 o'clock Saturday night all of the New Castle Rifle club league members are asked to appear at the Cathedral range in full regalia, jackets, guns, etc., to have their pictures taken.

Lewis-Perroni Battle Tonight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 14.—John Henry Lewis, Phoenix, Ariz., Negro, who holds the world light heavyweight championship, will meet Patsy Perroni, Cleveland Italian, in a 10-round non-title bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Lewis was a one-sided favorite to come through to an easy win in another chapter of the buildup designed to launch him among the heavyweight title contenders.

American jewels at the coronation were unique. They were the only fine gems present that hadn't been stolen.

Market Recovers As Steel Strike Ends In Pittsburgh, Some Gains Two Points

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 14.—Stocks recovered today, ending five days of declining prices topped by Thursday's severe break, gains in some cases running to more than two points in fairly active trading.

Settlement of the Jones & Laughlin strike and Washington denials margins of 100 per cent were being contemplated were the prime factors in reversing the downward trend. Also, foreign markets displayed an improved tone after early softness.

Steels, motors, rubbers, utilities, rails and coppers set the recovery pace, after an initial carry-over of selling had resulted in several additional new lows for the year through the general list.

U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Bethlehem each spurted more than a point as the Jones & Laughlin announcement was made, after losing fractionally in the first hour. Republic and Otis were close behind.

Tax Millage Set; Budget Adopted By School Board

Millage Is Set Same As Last Year At 22 Mills By Board Thursday Night

PER CAPITA TAX ALSO ASSESSED

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—Ellwood City will not experience any increase in taxes this year as the result of the tax millage set by the board of education at its regular monthly meeting Thursday night in the Lincoln high school. With the borough council setting its millage the same as last year at its regular meeting last week, the school board followed suit and set its total millage at 22 mills. The following tax resolution was unanimously passed by the board.

Tax Is Fixed

"Resolved, that there is hereby levied and assessed on and against each resident or inhabitant over 21 years of age in the school district of the Borough of Ellwood City, Pa., for the school year beginning July 1, 1937, the sum of five (5) dollars as per capita tax, which he or she shall pay as provided by law, for the use of the said district.

"And be it further resolved, that in addition to the foregoing there is hereby levied and assessed for the school year beginning July 1, 1937, a tax of fifteen (15) mills on each dollar (being $1.50 on each $100.00) of the total assessment of all property assessed and certified for taxation within the said school district, to pay the minimum salaries and increments of the teaching and supervisory staff of said district as provided by law.

"And be it further resolved, that in addition to the foregoing there is hereby levied and assessed for the school year beginning July, 1937, a tax of seven (7) mills on each dollar (being 70 cents on each $100.00) of the total assessment of all property assessed and certified for taxation within said school district for the use of said school district for all other purposes for which revenues are required by said district."

Adopt Budget

The board also at this time adopted its budget. Its proposed receipts were $293,500 and expenditures $292,073.

The contemplated receipts were as follows:

Current taxes, $142,500; state appropriation, $67,000; delinquent taxes, $30,000; tuition, $26,500; other sources, $11,000; balance on hand, $6,500. Expenditures: General control, $12,076; instruction and supplies, $190,070; auxiliary agencies (medical department, library, etc., $7,040; operation of plant, $23,550; maintainence, $5,300; fixed charges (state retirement insurance), $6,000; debt service (redemption of bonds, etc.), $41,037.50; capital outlay (alterations and improvements), $7,000.

Judging from this year the board anticipates a 95 per cent tax collection in property taxes for 1937-38. Secretary G. Blaine Hancher announced that the collection to date this year is 88½ per cent on property taxes and with two more months for the installment period to close, it is anticipated that this will reach 92 per cent. The collection on the per capita tax was 50½ per cent this year, and may increase slightly, he stated.

District Governor Visits Rotarians

Interesting Meeting Of Club Held Thursday Night At Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—Ellwood City Rotarians enjoyed a most interesting meeting in the First Presbyterian church on Thursday evening when Governor John Pfeil of the Thirty-Third District Rotary International made his official visit to the local club. The governor met with the officers and committee chairmen at five o'clock and found the affairs of the Ellwood City club to be in good condition. He made the telling point during this conference that a club is as strong as its objectives.

President F. E. Moore was in charge of the dinner meeting. He urged the members to attend the charter meeting of the Slippery Rock club next Tuesday evening.

An excellent letter was read, from the high school honorary Rotarian last month, James Flanagan, Jr. Joseph Pishionneri was introduced as the high school Rotarian for the present month.

Harold Burns announced that next Wednesday was "warm-up" day on the muni golf course and urged all the golfers to get into the fray.

Harold Seidel was put on the carpet in regard to one of the new Rotary signs which was not visible. His explanation was not questioned. He assured the club that the missing sign would soon be in evidence and smiling its genial welcome to all passing Rotarians.

Under the direction of Paul Winters the club gave the visiting governor some very fine singing. The rendition of "Home on the Range" will doubtless go with the governor to Nice, France, and return. After the mighty effort the jovial warblers were red-faced and panting.

Govenor John Pfeil gave a strong address on having a local club fulfill its destiny in Rotary. In the course of his address he mentioned that the Brownsville club was giving a splendid service in tree planting; Braddock in furnishing the children's ward in the local hospital; Connellsville, in promoting Boy Scout work; Uniontown, in entertaining the district conference; Leechburg, in helping the high school band. He said that, behind the scenes, Rotarians in all countries today, were working hard in the interest of peace.

The Rotary club will unite in the community meeting, Thursday evening at the Country club, celebrating Life Insurance Week. Mr. A. Milner Bechtel, Philadelphia, with the Provident Mutual, will be the speaker of the occasion.

During the business session Mrs. A. W. Kliendeinst gave a detailed report of the recent convention of West Conference Missionary Society held in Butler. A report was also given on India Lace Day Observance and the visit of the Innermission truck from Pittsburgh that was in the city this past week. Delicious refreshments were served by hostesses, Mrs. George Blank, Mrs. Arthur Dambaugh, and Mrs. Henry Eicholtz.

On June 10 the class will meet again in the church parlors.

Annual Banquet At Wurtemburg

Mary Braeden Circle Entertains At Mothers And Daughters Banquet Event

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—One of the most delightful events of Thursday evening took place at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church when members of the Mary Braeden circle entertained the mothers and daughters of the church at their annual banquet.

A beautiful arrangement of flowers centered the four long tables and each place was marked with a colorful favor. Fifty guests partook of a delicious menu served by the girls of the circle.

The invocation was given by Miss Jean Wimer and effective toasts were given by Miss Edith Worcester to the mothers and Mrs. John Caughey responded to the daughters.

Included on the program were two duets by Edwin Furniss and Robert Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mr. Taylor also sang a solo. Fillmore Mecklem of Rochester added a novelty spoon act and Miss Helen Downing gave a very amusing reading.

A group of the girls of the Jane Caughey class presented a fine Mother's Day playlet. A special feature of the fine program was a ventriloquist act by Miss Madeline Mecklem, of Rochester, who performed in a finished and perfected manner.

Miss Anna Perry, of New Castle, was the speaker of the evening and she brought an interesting and inspirational message that held the complete attention of the entire group. Miss Perry is a well-known teacher of the New Castle schools and an active worker of the Lawrence county Sunday school association.

Quilting occupied the attention of the group throughout the day with a delicious dinner being served at noon by the hostesses.

Plans were made to hold the next meeting on Wednesday, June 9, at the home of Mrs. John Nevin, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Re-elect Hancher School Secretary

Charles Jackson Named Treasurer; Approve Repairs And Improvements

COLLEGE GRADUATE TEACHERS GAIN

ELLWOOD CITY, May 14.—G. Blaine Hancher was unanimously re-elected as secretary of the Ellwood City board of education for a term of four years at the board's regular monthly meeting Thursday night. His increased salary amounted to $2,400.

Charles Jackson of the People's National bank of this city was re-elected treasurer for one year at a salary of one dollar. Supt. of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong announced that t achers' contracts had been sent out and returned and indicated that there would be about four vacancies ot fill at the next meeting. The salary schedule will also be announced. The board placed itself on record of not being in favor of married teachers in the local school system and resolved not to encourage it.

Supt. DeLong announced that he had received the annual report of college graduates as teachers in the local school system from the state department and found a favorable increase over last year. It was 57.4 per cent and this year it is 62.4 per cent. This places Ellwood City in 22nd place amongst second and third class districts of the state.

The board discussed a number of improvements on school property this summer. Favorable expressions were given on iron posts and chain as a fence along Short street, and also of paving a grass plot to provide a parking place for visiting cars and busses.

It was moved to repave the entrance to the Ewing Park school and roll the ground there, to repair one of the columns at the front of the auditorium of Lincoln high school, and to tear down the old band stand on the athletic field.

The matter of moving the score board to the Short street side of the field was referred to the building committee for an investigation and recommendation. Supt. DeLong announced that the court yard project of the local pupils at the high school is developing remarkably. The fruits of their labor are in evidence now. Advisability of not using the athletic field this fall was discussed by the board at this time. President Helling stated that this would be a fine thing for the field and permit the present turf to obtain a good hold . Supt. DeLong expressed the opinion that since the practice field has been repaired the main one will be used only for games and therefore would be preserved much better than in the past. No action was taken on this matter.

Bids on supplies were referred to the secretary, superintendent and building committee with power to act. Others were referred to the building committee, with a report back to the board. This included five bids on alterations to the West End school building, two bids on amesite material and three on furnishing coal.

Supt. DeLong gave the board interesting information when he declared that 60 age cards were issued by his office in the past two months to youths who had acquired employment. A number of them left school r this.
